Shiroy Koibito Park

Shiroy Koibito Park is a kind of theme park by Ishiya, a local chocolate company. The company's flagship product are the Shiroy Koibito cookies, two thin butter cookies with white chocolate in between, a mandatory item on the souvenir shopping list of most visitors to Hokkaido. The park consists of various Disneyland style buildings housing shops, a cafe and, most interestingly, a chocolate factory, which is open to the public. Besides some windows, from behind which visitors can observe the production process of the chocolate cookies, there are many chocolate related exhibits. Part of the Shiroy Koibito Park is a soccer field, the practice ground for "Consadole Sapporo", the local J-League soccer team. There is also a small collection house about the team's history.

The Sapporo Central Wholesale Market-The Outer Market

The Outer Market of Sapporo Wholesale Market, located at the south of the Wholesale Market, is very popular not only among local citizens, but also travelers visiting Sapporo, because a number of fresh products of the sea and soil are dealt here every morning. It is always lively and bustling with high spirited voices of merchants echoing over the site.

Sapporo Beer Museum

The red brick Sapporo Beer Brewery includes the Sapporo Beer Museum, which provides visitors with an explanatory tour of beer-brewing methods and their important tie to the development of Hokkaido, as well as an opportunity to quaff freshly brewed Sapporo Beer. Sapporo Beer is the oldest of Japan's four major beer companies and the brewery building is a historic site. Inside the building is also the popular Sapporo Beer Garden, which is famous for "Genghis Kahn," a barbecued mutton dish, and freshly brewed draft beer, including Sapporo Classic, a beer served only in Hokkaido. Adjacent to the Sapporo Beer Brewery is also the Sapporo Factory shopping mall, with a large atrium and sculpture created from former machinery from the brewery.

Mt. Moiwa Ropeway

Mt. Moiwa, whose broad foothills stretch into southwest Sapporo, is famous for its spectacular night view of the city. Viewed from the observatory at the top of the 531-meter-high mountain, Sapporo shines like a sea of light, its entertainment district, Susukino, glimmering with red and yellow neon. Mt. Moiwa even commands views of Mt. Eniwa-dake, near Lake Shikotsu, and of distant Ishikari Bay. Visitors can enjoy the scenic drive up the mountain in spring, summer and autumn.

PM	Canal Walking (stop-off) Coach
Around 16:30 p.m.	The tour will end at Sapporo City

Otaru Walking

The city of Otaru has flourished with herring fishing and was once the center of the economy of Hokkaido. Financial companies were all gathered in Otaru and called "Wall Street of the North" named after that world financial center of the Wall Street in New York. There are many historical structures such as stone-built western style architecture in this area.

The Old Aoyama Villa(Nishin-goten)

The role of the fishing industry in Otaru's economic development is brought to light by a visit to this former country residence of a wealthy herring entrepreneur. Luxuriously finished in lacquer and polished wood, the villa is a testimony to the power and riches gained from of the sea in the port's glorious past.

Canal walking

The symbol of Otaru City, the Otaru Canal is a historic 1.5-km canal that provides both a nostalgic look at the Otaru of yesteryear and unique shopping and dining experiences. The canal was created by a sea reclamation project beginning in 1914 and is lined with stone warehouses from that time. Once the capital of Hokkaido in Japan's Meiji Period, Otaru was known as the "Sakhalin of Japan" for its busy maritime trade with Russia. The shipping warehouses have been preserved and the canal is always photogenic no matter what the season. The promenade along the canal has numerous fancy shops and fine restaurants and is illuminated by a series of gaslights.

Zerubu-no-Oka

Located on Route 237, this park is filled with lavender, poppies, and sunflower in full bloom during the summer months.

Shirogane Blue Pond

Shirogane Blue Pond was made by accident, as the by-product of attempts to control mudslides. Aluminium that has seeped into the water scatters the sunlight, causing the pond to look blue.

Sandantaki waterfall

Sandantaki (waterfall) is located along the Yubari National Highway (Route 452) on the way to Furano District in Central Hokkaido. The waterfall describes the three-tiered flow of the water over interesting rock formations with the background of green forest.

Shiretoko Boat Trip

By taking a boat cruise along the rugged coast of the Shiretoko Peninsula you can get a look at the more remote parts of the national park, which are otherwise only accessible on foot. From May to October, two companies are offering sightseeing boat cruises on two different routes from Utoro: The shorter cruises go half way up the peninsula as far as the Kamuiwakka Falls, while the longer cruises go all the way to the tip of the peninsula.

Shiretoko Five Lakes

In this Shiretoko area, five lakes are scattered. We call the gathering "Shiretoko-Go-Ko". From the sky, the form of scattering looks as if God put the five fingerprints on this ground. "Shiretoko-Go-Ko" is surrounded by primitive forest on all side, so there is something dreamy. Each of five lakes has different charm, and all keep silent. Each reflects the primitive forest and series of mountain on the silent surface. The appearance appropriates to paradise in primitive nature. In fact, you see both plants on moist plain and rare alpine plants around lakesides. We can say "Shiretoko-Go-Ko" has a miraculous beauty created by god. The scenery is always beautiful. In spring and summer, they are filled with fresh and bright green. In addition to, autumn colors are wonderful.

Shiretoko World Heritage Conservation Center

The Shiretoko World Heritage Conservation Center instructs the visitors to know rules and manners when experiencing nature of Shiretoko and displays life-size photographic panels of animals like brown bears and Yezo sika. It also provides real-time information of Shiretoko.
